

Await Word Of John L. Lewis

Western Pennsylvania Operators Are Ready To Reopen Mines

STEEL PRODUCTION BEING HARD HIT

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2.—Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia mine operators, ready now to reopen strike-closed coal pits under government control, were awaiting word today from John L. Lewis that would return union coal diggers to their jobs.

The operators said maintenance crews have kept the workings in good order, and conditions will be normal if the United Mine Workers' members resume work Wednesday, as ordered by President Roosevelt yesterday.

It's all up to Lewis, they indicated, remarking that unless the UMW chief uses his influence to persuade the men to work, production may be a long time returning to capacity. They feared that many miners may refuse to return to their jobs unless Lewis makes a positive demand that they do; and with some miners working while others stay out, antagonistic conditions could develop, which would lead to friction.

Comment Refused
Union leaders refused to comment locally on the situation, waiting to hear the UMW policy committee decision on the War Labor Board's rejection of their wage demands, expected today at a conference in Washington.

Operators, however, are quoted as feeling that if the government resumes management of the coal industry to end the strike, it should also assume jurisdiction over affairs of the union. The Smith-Connally-Harness act empowers the federal government to impound union funds and sequester union dues.

Some believed such disciplinary action would be the best way to solve the problem of recurring strikes that have disrupted war production for the fourth time recently. If the men return to work the operators expect to have normal mining operations under way early next week; but production of steel in the Pittsburgh district's huge mills was a new problem.

Our boys are heroes, but let's remember that a bullet wound hurts no worse than being chewed up in a factory machine.

FAR-REACHING RESULTS OF MOSCOW PACT ARE SEEN

agreement, is that its wordage implies the entrance of Russia into the war with Japan as soon as the conflict in Europe shall have passed a critical stage. Bases in Russia's maritime provinces of Siberia would be just what the doctor ordered for bombing the Mikado's paper cities and for supplying Chinese armies, already numerous enough and brave enough to kick the Japanese off the continent of Asia.

Third Great Military Result

Third great military result to be expected from the announcements of the Moscow conference is the effect they will produce on the already hard-hit Nazi morale. One of the hopes held up to the German people has been that the Russian-American-British combination is on the verge of falling apart. Yesterday's declarations seem to send that flying, once and for all out the window.

Meanwhile Russian forces of General Fedor Tolbukhin's first Ukrainian army were capturing Armyansk, controlling the Perekop peninsula only land highway to the Crimea and at the same time moving closer towards encircling a vast, 100-mile circle of territory in the bend of the Dnieper river.

Believe 600,000 Caught

London military authorities hope that 40 Nazi divisions, totalling 600,000 men, will be caught in these two great traps. This is by no means certain, as the Germans have been evacuating the Crimea since August, and are pulling out of the Dnieper bend country as rapidly as they can.

But if 600,000 more of the Reich's already diminishing supply of fighting men are killed or captured, it is more than probable, as London speculates, that German public opinion will force a demand for peace before spring.

base in the southwest Pacific which is the goal of a giant pincer drive from the Solomons and New Guinea.

Drive Is Pressed
The drives in the Treasury group and on Choiseul were pressed relentlessly by allied troops seeking to decimate the Jap garrison there. On Mono, the largest of the five Treasury islands, American and New Zealand troops captured enemy mortar and gun positions.

The crack American troops who stormed the wide sandy beaches fringing Empress Augusta bay on Bougainville shortly after daybreak Monday encountered little immediate opposition, the communique said. Bitter clashes are expected later, however, since it is believed many thousands of Japs are entrenched on the island.

The drive on Bougainville, it was revealed, was begun after a recent conference of the South Pacific commanders with Gen. MacArthur, director of all operations in the Solomons-New Guinea area.

Gen. MacArthur pointed out that the Bougainville drive should not be interpreted as a grand offensive but rather a forward movement designed to seize Jap airfields.

"My resources are limited," he said. "I have a shortage of means to hit the Japs. I must make the best use of those means."

GOVERNMENT TO OPEN COAL MINES ON WEDNESDAY

members of the policy committee— which reconvenes at 4 p. m. today—on the new turn of events.

The president's order, carried out almost instantly by Secretary of Interior Ickes, was issued before the latest general shutdown of coal mining operations was 4 hours old or had yet become 100 percent effective.

U. S. Takes Possession

The government took possession of all coal mines of 50 tons capacity or more where a work stoppage had occurred or was threatened. As in the seizure last summer, the various coal company presidents were designated as operating managers.

Moreover, Ickes, as solid fuels administrator, was authorized by the president to negotiate with the UMW and offer the miners a new wage agreement in line with the terms laid down by the WLB for the period of government operation.

"The grievances of the miners have been heard," Mr. Roosevelt declared. "They have been fairly dealt with. The government offers the miners a fair contract. They have no right in wartime to refuse to work under it."

"Coal Must Be Mined"
"Coal must be mined. The enemy does not wait. The failure to mine coal at this critical moment is impeding the prosecution of the war and endangering the lives of our sons and brothers, the sons and brothers of the miners, on the battlefields."

The union previously was expected to reject the WLB's wage formula, set forth in the decision on the proposed Illinois contract which is regarded as a "model" for the entire industry. The UMW might vote to accept it however under government operation of the pits.

The WLB originally rejected the Illinois agreement but agreed to its approval if resubmitted with a 37½-cent daily wage increase eliminated. Such a move would give the miners $8.12½ for an eight and one-half hour day, including travel time, instead of $8.50 as proposed.

In terminating the third general strike last summer, Lewis sent the miners back to work without a contract until Oct. 31 on condition that the government operate the mines.

A wave of "wildcat" strikes started more than two weeks ago when Ickes restored all of the mines to private ownership.

The union now has an opportunity to obtain from the government the new contract which it has sought since last March 31.

ensive operation began with a bombing of Buika and Ballala at extreme ends of Bougainville by airmen under Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr.

The actual invasion operation, Knox added, was carried out under the direction of Halsey and with the support of warships at his command.

The aerial bombardment of Jap fields neutralized Japanese air power and Knox said that consequently there was "very little opposition" as Marines "moved in" and established a beachhead at Empress Augusta Bay, about 260 miles from the main Jap base at Rabaul.

"The operation was successfully planned and there were no leaks," Knox said. "The enemy was not prepared for it."

Knox paid tribute to Marine corps fliers who have been in action in the Solomons for some time. He expressed regret at the fact that there has been little mention of Marine pilots' activities although approximately 200 have been in action in the South Pacific.

American, British and Russian high commands is common knowledge in the higher brackets.

The cooperation attained at the Moscow conferences under direction of United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Soviet Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov was seen emphasized in the statement of Hull who told news representatives that the parley showed that the leading countries of the world had abandoned "the hermit route to isolationism."

Hull punctuated this statement by declaring that the movement for closer international cooperation in prosecution of the war and building the peace to come now has been wholeheartedly endorsed by the strongest of the allied nations.

Eden voiced a similar conviction.

NATION AWAITS MINERS RESPONSE

the United Mine Workers of America, representing 540,000 hard and soft coal miners, were idle. They were joined by at least 60 per cent of the Progressive Mine Workers of America, A.P.L. in Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky.

In most of the struck mines, only maintenance crews remained.

Whether a substantial back-to-work movement would get under way by tomorrow depended largely upon the outcome of today's meeting in Washington of the UMW's policy committee with John L. Lewis, union president.

bring the Soviet Union into future cooperation with the other three major allied powers in the Far East.

Believe Russia To Fight Japs
It is pointed out article five of the Moscow declaration provides that, for the purpose of maintaining international peace and security pending the reestablishment of law and order, the four powers will "consult with one another" with a view to "joint action on behalf of the community of nations."

The declaration does not say this geographically unlimited consultation and "joint action" necessarily has to wait until after this war.

It is known that both President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill are confident Russia will join the war against Japan after Germany has been defeated. The view prevails in some diplomatic circles that article five of the joint declaration might well be invoked for Russia's entry into the Pacific conflict at some later date.

Another statement which diplomatic observers thought might be construed as morally obligating Russia eventually to help directly in the war against Japan was the following:

"The four powers are 'conscious of their responsibility to secure the liberation of themselves and the people Allied with them from the menace of aggression.' It is noted that the United States, Britain and China—Allies of Russia—are menaced by Japanese aggression."

WARTIME APATHY IN ELECTION SEEN

New Deal policies, represented by William C. Bullitt, a Democrat, and Republican tenets supported by Acting Mayor Bernard Samuel, veteran G. O. P. wheelhorse. Bullitt, former ambassador to France and Russia has the endorsement of President Roosevelt.

If the New Deal socialists are successful in leading his party to victory in Philadelphia, it will mark the first time in 60 years that the city's 19,000 political appointments have passed out of Republican hands. Both parties claimed victory by margins ranging up to 50,000 votes.

Many Minor Offices
Hundreds of local offices will be filled by the voters in addition to electing mayors in 27 third class cities and filling 48 vacancies in lower courts.

Only four elections have been certified, but voters have been asked to approve a constitutional amendment transferring the authority for establishing election districts from the courts to the legislature. Both parties have endorsed the amendment which was passed by the General Assembly in 1942 and again in 1943 as required by the constitution.

Congressional Contest
In the 23rd congressional district formerly represented by James E. Van Zandt of Altoona, now a Navy lieutenant commander, voters must choose between Dr. Emmert Brunbaugh, Claysburg banker, Republican, and Miss Edna Marsden, Democratic treasurer of Clearfield county. Although the district, composed of Blair, Centre and Clearfield counties, is normally Republican, the Democrats controlled the district for two terms prior to Van Zandt's election.

York county voters will fill a state senate seat left vacant by the death of Sen. Henry E. Lanus, veteran legislator. Henry I. Moull, York trucking executive, slated by the Republicans for the post in opposition to Guy A. Leader, York poultryman, a Democrat.

The remaining special elections will be held in Delaware county where voters will fill two vacancies.

in the state house of representatives. Ellwood J. Turner of Moghan, speaker of the house from 1939 to 1943, was a candidate for one of the posts.

FAITH
FORTY-FIVE YEARS NOVEMBER 1

Forty-five years ago, we started in business in Lawrence County. At that time, and for a number of years afterwards, experience in business, professional or political, meant something to the public.

The minister, physician, funeral director and business man, with experience, was honored and looked up to, in his community. But, today, with the unrest and turmoil in our midst, it is different. And there is proof of it all around. People want to get things done, and they care little, how. Prices, and getting it over with, are the order of the day now, regardless of whether it is done by a man with experience or not.

But, with these changes, we still expect to go on in the good old fashioned way, giving service, which we have gathered from experience in the last forty-five years, with no new tactics to get business, or in any way slight those, by whom we are employed.

to find a home among his own people at Fort Pitt. "The Forest and

WOMAN'S CLUB HEAR SPEAKER ON MONDAY

"Guest Day" brought out a large attendance of guests to hear Mrs.
Lillian Byers review Eve Curle's "Journey Among Warriors" at the regular meeting of Woman's Club conducted in Highland United Presbyterian church on Monday afternoon.

Eve Curle, daughter of the famous scientist Mme. Marie Curie, left France when the Germans occupied Paris, and was in London during the blitz. She came to America later, and was sent by the New York Tri-

she gave in the first person, has a decided American flavor along with a delightful French manner. Mrs.
Earl Reed introduced Mrs. Byers, who is an attorney as well as a lecturer.

Mrs. Paul Friend, a member of the Schubert Sextette, sang two songs, "Sweetheart of Mine," a 15th

convalescing soldiers at Deshon Army Hospital, Butler. The Woman's Club will sponsor one room at the hospital, as a part of their welfare work.

Mrs. Henry Golder reported the total sum of $253,153.20 has been sold in bonds and stamps to date,
at the booth operating downtown.
The amount is enough to purchase one bomber.

Mrs. Frank Woods reported minor changes in the Constitution and By-Laws necessitated through emergencies.

Mrs. Kenneth Beck urged all members to vote today, and gave a short talk on the duties of an American citizen, to his country.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

ACCEPTING MENTAL ILLNESS
HIGHLY intelligent people have come to think of mental illness in the same objective manner as they think of physical illness. For the recovery of the patient, this attitude is even more necessary, as you can see, than if he were just physically ill.

Nevertheless, there still lingers in the minds and feelings of the rank and file of people otherwise intelligent an attitude of hush and shame. This way of responding to the person who is mentally sick, or who has recovered from this illness, is a hang-over from centuries ago when these unfortunate were considered to be filled with "evil spirits" and turned out to the mercy of the beast-infested forests.

Today we have our splendid private and public specialists and hospitals for treatment of the mentally-sick and the percentage of total cure is very high. As the average parents and other adults grow more sensible, many mentally-sick patients are cured before they become hospital cases or even are known to be mentally ill by their neighbors.

Cultivation of Mental Health
Better still, we are slowly learning how to keep mentally well and to cultivate good mental health in our children. A selected list of books on "Mental Health and Personality," may be had for postage by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it. Most of all these books may be borrowed from any good public library.

A letter by a mother of a two year old son, whose husband is in a mental hospital well illustrates the unfortunate prevailing notion about persons who are mentally sick. Her husband, the father of their two year old son, has been in a mental hospital since the child was seven months old. She says to the doctors have warned her not to let the child know his father is a mental patient until the youngster is grown up. "My greatest worry as far as the boy is concerned, is how to prevent his father's illness from needlessly coloring his life. How can I account for his father's absence, without creating an air of mystery or making the child feel he has something to be ashamed of?"

Then she expresses concern about when he will enter school. "I am afraid the children will taunt him about his 'crazy' father."

The Doctor's Reply
In answering this mother I said, that I am amazed that the doctors advised her to keep that child ignorant until grown up, of the nature of his father's illness. It seems to me you have an opportunity to cultivate in yourself and the child a sensible attitude toward the matter; that, moreover, you might, by working with the teachers of the school, effect a wholesome bit of mental hygiene.

No matter where you go, your son will eventually learn the truth. Besides, it harms you and him not to try to conceal the facts. Suppose your husband should recover and return home. His happiness then, yours and your son's, could hardly be greatest without your accepting the reality and helping your son do so too.

PENNY-FOOLISH

My father often would advise: "My son, you should be penny-wise."
But heedless of advice was I. I always let my pennies fly. Nor could I ever seem to learn To save a few of those I earn.

Time was the good, old copper cent. For lemon drops and chocolate went. The candy merchant daily took My pennies then with scarce a look. But dimes for pennies now I pitch Nor am I certain which is which.

So similar the coins they make That pennies oft for dimes I take. So much alike they seem to be That merchants look with scorn On coins that I have given.

And tell me it's federal crime To pass a penny for a dime.
Have we not woe enough to bear Enough of anguish, brief and care. Dispute, discouragement and doubt These fearful days to fret about. Without twin coins of hue and size So no one can be penny-wise? (Copyright, 1943, Edgar A. Guest)

Mince meat is a mixture of meat and fruit. There are different ways of making it. It is a good combination of meat and fruit. The amount of nutriment and vitamins varies with the mix.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

My mother-in-law was born in the South, and don't think she'll let you forget it for a moment. To her, only Southerners are Americans, all the others are just Yankees, and that certainly ain't much.

But I like her just the same. There is something about that pride in background, in family and tradition that make you shun cheap and petty things.

You can't help admiring thoroughbreds, although that F. F. V. business can be driven just a bit too far.

The other evening I was arguing with my mother-in-law (and how she loves to argue!) "You know," I said to her, "when I get ready to retire, I think I'd like to have a place down in the Kentucky Blue Grass country."

I was thinking of the lovely scenery down there, the soft breezes, the climate which suits me to a T, and to the fact that it's my wife's ancestral stamping ground.

"Right you are," she agreed with me (yes, she did). "You'll love it. Such nice people come from there."

So the argument started. "What do you mean, nice people come from there?" I asked. "It's such nice country why don't the nice people stay down there?"

"Why is it that people always race about the places they come from?" "Frenchmen used to sing the praises of Paris, Russians tell us about beautiful Moscow."

"California says there's nothing like their gorgeous state. Georgian talk about their peaches. Iowans about their tall corn and Pennsylvanians about their scrapple."

"If it's all so wonderful, why on earth don't they stay there?" "For once my mother-in-law was stumped. Before she could open her mouth, I continued:

"Personally I want to live in a place where people want to go, not where they run away from."

"Everybody kicks about New York, yet six million outsiders come here unasked, make their money, stick around like glue and tell us what a wonderful place Keokuk and Kan-kakee, Punksawney and Walla Walla are."

"Well, New York is such a great place," my mother-in-law replied meekly, "why do you want to go to Kentucky?"

To which, for once, I had no answer. Have you?

The World and the Mud Puddles

ITEMS OF COST
It was thought after the expensive experience in War No. 1 in the United States government awarding contracts on a cost-plus plan that this would never be repeated.

is, however, being repeated in this war on a gorgeous scale. Naturally, the labor costs to any contractor accepting a contract on a certain bid, would be ruinous in the light of the various acts of Congress regulating employer and employee and the constant racketeering of labor leaders causing this strike and that strike for higher wages. And this situation, where the employer has no idea what his labor cost will be forced upon him before his contract is completed makes it very difficult for the government to attempt to award the contract to the lowest bidder.

There are, however, in connection with the operation of great war industries, a tremendous number of men employed in superintending, managing, acting as controllers and cashiers, construction engineers and all that, who are not in the category of organized labor. And this situation has been exploited in the cost-plus plan to an extent that is appalling.

Congressman Louis Ludlow, of Indiana, would now like to know how a person who is willing to work for fifty dollars a week has to be paid one hundred dollars a week when he goes on a job connected with the war effort. The Hoosier Representative poses this question in the course of a resounding speech in the House in which he said he hoped to make a "tremendous appeal to America to get down to earth."

The talk included a blast at "our lopsided bureaucracy" and a challenge to Congress to put an end to its extravagant spending on a sound basis.

Describing cost-plus, fixed-fee contracts as a crime against the taxpayers, Congressman Ludlow in the latter part of his speech declared this form of contract covered "a salary grab as glaring as the mid-day sun."

"I challenge anybody to tell me," said he, "how it happens that when an employee is contentedly working for a certain salary in private employment and he is transferred to work under a government cost-plus contract his services suddenly become 'in the twinkling of an eye' worth fifty per cent, one hundred per cent and up to seven hundred per cent more than he has been receiving."

Mr. Ludlow cited some salary increases which he said had miraculously occurred when the employees concerned switched from private to government work.

A superintendent who had been working for $3000.00 was paid $7800 a year; another superintendent was raised from $100 to $325 a month; a comptroller and acting general manager from $18,000 to $24,000; a cashier from $125 to $310 a month; a factory manager from $7,200 to $12,000 a year; a construction engineer from $175 to $400 a month; (Continued On Page Seven)

SUGGESTIONS FOR AGING WOMEN
"I am sixty years old and still interested in looking modish without looking, at the same time, too youthful or 'kittenish.' Can you give me some pointers as to coiffure, make-up, etc.—anything that will help the aging woman to look attractive but dignified?" —Marion.
Answer: Probably you have bobbed hair. Most women, even young women, most women of sixty, have. If you have, wear it in a soft, wide, all-round roll with 'side part. Have your roll arranged so that it covers about three-quarters of your ear. Few older women have ears attractive enough to be entirely exposed. Be sure to have your hair arranged in loose waves, if any. Hair skinned back from the forehead and ears or in tiny, tight waves exaggerates every line and sag in an aging face.
Another point: Gray or white hair should be neatly combed and set regularly. Any hair should be, but unkempt gray hair, especially, gives one a haggard, slovenly appearance.
Now as to make-up: Use it, of course. Most skins fade and darken with age. So nature needs a little assistance—a little. I said. An obviously made-up elderly face is most unattractive, but just a dash of powder, rouge and lipstick improve conditions. Use your rouge sparingly and just a touch of lip rouge of a conservative shade. A hard, vivid line on lips that have lost the softness of youth merely emphasizes their age.
A great many 60-year-olds look very well in the fashionable, comfortable beanie, provided their hair is worn to fit this type of hat and the wearer is not too old looking to "get away with it." For general purposes, though, the tiny, pitched-forward, brimmed hat is more becoming especially when glasses are a "must." Selection of clothes depends upon the figure. The older woman who is tall and slender can wear what she pleases and become more and more becomingly stout and matronly. However, simplicity should be the keynote in her clothes selections. "Loud" colors and bizarre effects should be shunned. Today, more than ever before, fashionists have considered the problem of the middle-aged and older woman who wants to look smart and dignified.

Sub Campaign Against Japs Is Big Success

By HELEN ESSARY
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The navy finally is beginning to tell the real story of the smashing successful American submarine campaign against the Japanese shipping, but a lot of good news still is being held back for security reasons.

News in Washington for months knew that tabulations of Japanese sinkings based on navy communiqués were 30 to 50 per cent too low.

As of Sept. 9 a total of 312 enemy ships were listed as sunk or damaged.

The navy finally came out with a backlog of unreported sinkings which boosted that figure by 148 ships to make the total 460.

To prevent information from reaching the enemy, the reports of American submarine successes are believed to be withheld by the navy for from four to six months.

On this basis, the navy undoubtedly still has a fair-sized backlog that would boost the total well over 500 ships.

This belief was underscored recently by President Roosevelt when he announced that during the past six months United States submarines have been sinking Japanese ships at a rate of 130 thousand tons a month.

Recent release of the Jap ship sinking roundup by the navy should do much to boost that branch of the service in the eyes of Americans.

Hitherto, the navy was criticized often because it allegedly gave out only good news and withheld bad news.

This all proves that sometimes even good news must be withheld.

Four Liberator bombers, formidable in their new desert-tan war-paint, were drawn up on the concrete facing the main Bolling field hangar.

The newly-formed Yugoslavian air unit, clad in United States army air forces uniforms, stood at attention in front of the planes as President Roosevelt gave them their wings and told them their future mission will be to bomb the Germans out of Yugoslavia.

Major Gen. Edwin M. Watson, the president's general military aide, was standing next to an airplane brigadier, watching the ceremonies.

Watson turned to the brigadier and inquired: "What are those big things out there, general—bombers?"

White Christmas or green Christmas—till be a war Christmas this year—with the heavy hand of Mars everywhere, even in the nurseries of the nation.

However, there is no reason why it shouldn't be a merry Christmas for the kids. Shortages will occur, but there will be substitutes to make a real Yule celebration possible.

For instance, wooden substitutes for metal toys will be commonplace even more than last year and an expected shortage of Christmas trees from the normally big centers of production may be partially made up for by cutting of trees locally.

Here's the pre-Christmas picture as it appears to official Washington.

Toys—No electrical or mechanical items such as trains, construction sets and other goods made of metal except those left over from last year's unsold stock. Plenty of wooden toys and games.

Trees—Labor and truck shortages will cut production by some regular dealers by 50 per cent and other dealers may not be in the market at all. But local farm families will help overcome this difficulty. Some commercial dealers in the Pacific northwest have reported that they expect to cut trees as usual.

Gifts—None that are made of war-precious metal, except holdovers from last year. Plenty of other goods and an increased trend toward clothing and useful gifts.

Greeting cards—Plenty of them but lighter in weight and smaller in size (to save paper), and fewer in design (to save the zinc and copper plates). Fewer box selections (to save boxes).

Food—Probably fewer turkeys on the Christmas table than usual because of military demands and decreased production, but more chickens from a bumper chicken crop.

Trimings—Such as cranberries will be scarce because of military demands.

Great Game Of Politics

Willkie And The Negroes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. THE SITUATION which the aggressive candidacy of Mr. Willkie has made in the Republican party is not wholly without humor. Certainly, there is something amusing in the inability of the Republican politicians who so violently oppose him to conceal their inner anxiety lest they have guessed wrong and the ubiquitous and ubiquitous gentleman from Indiana may only require the nomination but be elected as well.

THEIR bitterness toward Mr. Willkie is understandable. Particularly in this so among Republican Senators, four fifth of these are exceedingly hostile to this nomination, and it is probably true that most of the Republicans in the House are distinctly unfriendly. In addition, a poll of the Republican National committee, at the moment, would reveal more than a majority of anti-Willkie members. When one reflects that these three groups—the Republican Senators, the Republican Representatives and the National Committee—are normally dominant in Republican organization politics and normally control of the delegations to the national convention from their respective States, the prospects of Mr. Willkie's nomination would seem extremely remote.

INDEED, they would be completely negligible but for certain political assets which are peculiarly his own and which to a considerable extent offset his party opposition and balance his lack of tact, taste and discernment. In the interests of clarity it may be useful to present them. There is, for example, his absolute confidence in himself. He is not only sure that he will be nominated but he is just as sure that he will be elected. It must be admitted that a plausible argument can be made on both counts. So far as the nomination is concerned, in June, 1940, when he got to Philadelphia, he had much the same political setup against him as he has today. In little more than a week he had overcome the opposition and routed the two leading candidates—Senator Taft and Mr. Dewey.

THIS TIME, Mr. Willkie is the only open and active candidate for the nomination. He has been working like a beaver for the last two months. For the next eight or ten days energy and time will be devoted to promoting his candidacy. No other man mentioned for the nomination is in position to challenge his possibilities. Governor Dewey and General MacArthur—are debared not only from any mention in their own interests but from any encouragement of their friends. The general, by his position, and the Governor, by his public and private statements, are removed from the field and could enter only in the event of a genuine and utterly unplanned "draft" such as has never occurred before.

COUPLE ALL this with the facts that Mr. Willkie has a potent press support and a real popular following, and despite the bitterness in the nomination race are obvious. As for the election, his friends point out that Mr. Roosevelt defeated him in 1940 by a majority of less than 100,000; that in the nature of things the President cannot be as strong now as he was then; that a shift of less than half a million votes in the pivotal States would reverse the result; that Mr. Willkie has not lost strength since 1940, but gained it, and that the Republicans who oppose him for the nomination will support him after he gets it.

ALL OF this is, of course, a one-sided argument and will be vigorously disputed by those who regard Mr. Willkie as almost as much a New Dealer as Mr. Roosevelt and hold it would be "suicidal" for the Republicans to nominate him. There are a good many such in the party. Nevertheless, there is one asset which Mr. Willkie has not acquired since 1940 that ought not to be overlooked. This is the progress he has made with the Negro vote, which more or less holds the balance of power in eight or nine pivotal States above the Mason and Dixon line. In 1936 and again in 1940, though for fifty years this vote had belonged to the Republican party, Mr. Roosevelt got more than ninety per cent of it. This was partly due to Federal patronage and the WPA, but a very great contributing factor was Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. F. D. Roosevelt, who directed the early New Deal strategy to capture the Negro vote, thinks she should get the largest credit.

NOW THE claim is made by his friends—and also by some detached and posted observers—that Mr. Willkie has acquired great strength among the Negro leaders; that he would poll more Negro votes against Mr. Roosevelt than any other Republican candidate; that he is, in fact, as popular as (Continued On Page Seven)

NEW YORK STATE ELECTION HOLDS WIDE INTEREST

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(INS)—New York state voters go to the polls today to decide issues of unusually wide interest for an "off year."

The chief contest, between Lieut. Gen. William Haskell, retired, Democratic and Labor nominee, and State Senator Joe R. Hanley, Republican, for the post of lieutenant-governor, is hottest in Albany county.

The O'Connell Democratic machine in Albany county has thrown all its resources into the Haskell fight, spurred by Governor Dewey's probe into municipal finances of the Democratic-controlled government of the state capital.

Albany Republicans, on the other hand, are out to move down the Democratic majority in retaliation for the Democratic investigation into expenditures of Dewey's Republican regime.

In New York City, interest centered on former Magistrate Joseph A. Aurelio, still in the running for supreme court although both the Democratic and Republican parties repudiated his bi-partisan nomination after disbarment proceedings brought the admission that the nominations were won with the help of racketeer Frank Costello.

Unique Window Attracts Many

Haney's Have Display Which Advertises Current Movie Hit

Folks passing the Haney Furniture company store on the Diamond are attracted by the unique window display, advertising the picture, "Whom the Bell Tolls," which will be shown at the Penn theater starting November 5.

Across the bed covering with knotted ropes is spelled out the word "Fascism." About them have been placed signs calling attention to Allied victories.

Urges Ceiling On Spending By U. S.

Oklahoma Congressman Suggests Plan To Halt Mounting Expenses

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Rep. Disney of Oklahoma, a ranking Democrat on the house ways and means committee, proposed today that congress create a joint budget committee for the purpose of placing ceilings on government spending.

He suggested that the ways and means committee write a new section into the pending two billion 183 million dollar tax bill which would require a two-thirds vote of congress to override a budget ceiling once it had been fixed.

An outgrowth of the economy movement in congress, the Disney plan is understood to be as follows:

1. Creation of a 20-member joint budget committee of congress to be composed of five members from each of the following committees: senate appropriations, senate finance, house appropriations and house ways and means. The political division would be fixed at a 12-8 ratio.

2. Six months prior to submission of his completed budget each January, the president would be required to send to congress an overall estimate of expenditures for the next fiscal year, together with revenue anticipated and additional taxes if any, needed.

3. Within the next 12 months, the joint budget committee would be required to report to congress a resolution fixing the "grand total" on all anticipated spending, reducing it below the president's recommendation or increasing it as it might see fit.

4. Once the resolution was adopted by the senate and house and the "ceiling" on spending fixed, the joint budget committee would be authorized to allocate this money to the various regular appropriation bills, thereby establishing ceilings on the amount which each bill could contain within the grand total.

5. Any appropriation bill which exceeded its ceiling would be subject to a point of order and a vote could be demanded by any member of either the senate or house. For the ceiling to be lifted would require a two-thirds majority of the total membership of each branch.

INTERN 3,771 ALIENS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(INS)—Attorney General Biddle announced today that 3,771 enemy aliens out of 14,738 taken into custody since Pearl Harbor are now interned.

Biddle said the 3,771 internees represent less than one-half of one percent of the 938,000 enemy aliens in the United States.

Of the 14,738 held by the FBI, 4,113 have been paroled and 1,444 released outright after hearings before alien enemy hearing boards. The remainder were released after preliminary hearings before U. S. attorneys.

Trolley And Bus Tieup Develops In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—(INS)—Thousands of war workers were delayed on their way to work today when 76 trolley operators and 48 bus drivers refused to take their vehicles from Philadelphia Transportation company barns after firm officials ordered them to remove C.I.O. badges from their uniforms.

Originally more than one-third of the lines in West and North West Philadelphia were affected. A PTC spokesman said supervisors refused to permit the operators, members of the Transport Workers Union, C.I.O., to take their cars or buses from the terminals while wearing the insignia. A 31-year-old company ruling prohibits the wearing of any insignia while on duty with the exception of U. S. service ribbons.

Key Elections In Three States

Expected To Furnish Clue
To G. O. P. Strength In 1944 National Election

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(INS)—Three key state elections were expected today to furnish a clue to Republican strength in the 1944 national elections.

As state voters in New York, New Jersey and Kentucky went to the polls, political leaders predicted that the GOP would register slight gains.

In New York, politicians were generally agreed that State Senator Joe R. Hanley, Republican, would be elected lieutenant-governor over the Democratic nominee, Lieut. Gen. William N. Haskell, retired. Political observers expressed the opinion that Hanley may win by approximately 100,000 votes.

The outcome of the New York race is conceded to be of special interest to the entire country. Although Gov. Thomas E. Dewey has said that he will serve out his term which ends in 1945—and thus not be a presidential candidate—many observers view the race as a positive indication of Republican strength next year.

In New Jersey
Former Republican United States Senator Walter Edge, 63-year-old former ambassador to France, is believed to have the inside track in the New Jersey gubernatorial race. His Democratic opponent is Mayor Vincent J. Murphy of Newark, who has the endorsement of both Gov. Charles Edison and Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City.

In Kentucky, the Republicans were believed to have a good chance to elect the sixth GOP governor since the Civil war.

Political observers, however, forecast the election of J. Lyter Davidson, former state highway commissioner, Democrat, over his Republican opponent, former Judge Simeon S. Willis, Ashland attorney, by a small margin but contend the race will be close.

Some national interest has been attached to the mayoralty contest in Philadelphia where former Ambassador William C. Bullitt is opposing Acting Mayor Bernard Samuel, Republican.

Governor Martin Issues Proclamation On Armistice Day

HARRISBURG, Nov. 2.—(INS)—November 11 was designated Armistice day by Gov. Edward Martin in a proclamation urging Pennsylvanians to work and fight harder and to "endure suffering and sacrifice with true American patriotism."

"Let us resolve, with new hope, new courage and new determination to fight harder, to work harder and to endure suffering and sacrifice with true American patriotism," he declared.

The Chief Executive urged Pennsylvanians to give "earnest thought to the lessons brought forcefully to our attention" on November 11, the 25th anniversary of the ending of World War I.

He pointed out that "the hopes of the world, bright and promising as they were on that historic day, were not fulfilled" because "hatred, greed and intolerance had survived the slaughter of war."

"The tragic reign of death and destruction into which they plunged the earth brings new significance to the anniversary of Armistice Day this year," he declared.

Staggering Amounts Of Food Are Needed For Armed Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(INS)—President Roosevelt disclosed Monday that an army still fights on its stomach.

In his food message to Congress, the President said that the American armed forces are now eating in each month 328 million pounds of meat, 34 million dozens of eggs, 28 million pounds of butter, 221 million pounds of potatoes—"and staggering amounts of other food-stuffs."

"ALL-BRAN LIVED UP TO ITS PROMISE!"

Says former sufferer
from constipation!

If you've often despaired of getting the lasting relief you wanted, this unsolicited letter may offer real encouragement:

"Permit me to compliment you on your wonderful product, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN! It certainly lived up to its promise, with me! I'd been taking many laxatives for a long time! But, no longer—thanks to KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN! I've adopted it as my standard!" Mr. Alexander Klein, 630 West 170th Street, N. Y. C.

Yes, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN really "lives up to its promise" as a common cause of constipation—lack of sufficient "cellulose" elements in the diet—because ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements! They work by helping the friendly colonic flora fluff up and lighten the colonic wastes for easy elimination. Not a purgative! Doesn't work by "sweeping out"! KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is simply a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If this is your trouble, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find welcome relief! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek, Michigan.

PUBLIC MEETINGS TO BE SPONSORED

G.N.C.A. To Have First Session
On November 10; Farm
Journal Editor To Speak

Opening a series of public meetings which will be sponsored by the Greater New Castle Association, Executive Vice President Roger Jewett announced today that Wheeler McMillen, president of the National Farm Chemurgic Council and editor-in-chief of the Farm Journal will speak in the George Washington junior high school on the night of November 10.

Mr. McMillen is a national authority on chemurgy which is utilizing science in the use of farm products for industry. The outstanding example of chemurgy is the use to which soy beans are put to today. Many other farm products have been put to industrial use and the result is a new field for farmers, an increase in their purchasing power, and the employment of men and women in industrial plants utilizing the farm products.

The meeting will be free to the public with particular references to farmers, industrialists and industrial workers. The address should be one of vital interest to many people in Lawrence county and it is anticipated that the appearance of Mr. McMillen will be met by a capacity audience.

Chapter Of S.A.R. Is Planned Here

Charles B. Shaler of Pittsburgh met with a group of representative citizens here and discussed the possibility of forming a chapter of the Pennsylvania Society, Sons of the American Revolution, at New Castle.

It is planned to institute the chapter early next year with a charter membership limited to 100. There are a great many local citizens who can qualify for membership in this society which is the oldest purely patriotic society in the United States.

The society is strictly a patriotic and social organization and is non-profit, non-partisan and non-political. Eligibility for membership necessitates a proved line of direct descent from a Revolutionary ancestor.

There will be an open meeting for prospective members in the near future. Prospects are bright for a new chapter, it is stated.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

Mr. Roosevelt with them, though not as popular as Mrs. Roosevelt. There are a number of reasons for this, but mainly it is due to his plea to the moving picture industry a year or so ago to cease discrimination against the Negroes. This plea was so earnest and impassioned as to sweep the important Negro leaders who heard it off their feet and win for Mr. Willkie their unstinted friendship and gratitude. The really practical politicians believe that any considerable loss of his Negro support would more surely defeat Mr. Roosevelt than anything else. Certainly he could not have won without it last time.

SPECTACULAR FISH CATCHES REPORTED

AT MARCUS HOOK

MARCUS HOOK, Pa., Nov. 2.—(INS)—Thousands of fishermen celebrated spectacular catches today after a receding tide in the Delaware river left thousands of fish beached or swimming lazily in shallow water near Marcus Hook.

Rivermen of long experience stated it was the first time in their memory that fishing was so lush and the fish so easy to take. The exact cause of the phenomenon was unknown, but it was pointed out that on Saturday there was blasting in the river channel toward the Jersey side. Some persons believed the noise may have led the fish to seek shallow waters along the Pennsylvania shore.

Drawn to the river by sea gulls which clouded the skies in search of a feast, hundreds of persons went out with nets and baskets to gather up shad, bass, perch and eel.

LIVING COSTS RISE

LITTLE IN DISTRICT

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2.—(INS)—Pittsburgh's cost-of-living figures, issued today by the U. S. Department of Labor, indicated an advance of one-half of one per cent as of Sept. 15 for all items.

Clothing accounted for 4.9 per cent; house furnishings advanced 0.8 per cent; miscellaneous items added 0.2 per cent to the climb due to price increases on cigars, dental costs and beauty shop charges.

The bureau said it was the first time Pittsburgh's cost-of-living index showed an increase since May 15, 1943, with average food prices down 0.3 per cent, rent up 0.1 per cent, and fuel, electricity and ice unchanged. Probably the greatest exception was a 6.4 per cent rise in egg prices.

BOMBERS AREN'T CAMELS

It's a long time between drinks for the camel. But a heavy bomber plane constantly gulps gasoline—200 gallons an hour at cruising speed.

And it's partly because of the bomber's thirst that the photograph shows U. S. gasoline by truck and camel. Petroleum is so important to our armies that every kind of conveyance is used to get it to them.

Two-thirds of the tonnage consumed by our expeditionary forces is petroleum.

The bomber is just one of many, many reasons for that huge consumption. Yet the gasoline it uses in 60 minutes is as much as the average motorist used in five months before the war.

Too, it's 100-octane gasoline the U. S.

petroleum industry is supplying to United Nations air forces in record quantity. Credit for steadily driving Germans and Japs from the skies goes first to our crews, second to our planes. But there's also an octane edge. Nazi gasoline averages no more than 87 and Japan's high octane supply is limited.

American superiority in quality and quantity of petroleum products was made possible by America's competitive business system. The endless effort to give you more for your dollar developed the enterprise and foresight which built a tremendous industry in peacetime—and converted it to war production without waiting to be told.

In tomorrow's Victory World, this same competitive system will serve you even better than before.

Lt. Lawrence Bennett, U. S.
Navy Chaplain, Sees Uncle

Had it not been for the war, Lieut. Lawrence Bennett, J. G., son of Dr. and Mrs. G. S. Bennett, of East Moody avenue, undoubtedly would never have had the opportunity of meeting his uncle, Maurice Bennett, who resides in one of the large cities in Australia.

Lieut. Bennett, after graduating from Chaplain's school, was assigned to the South Pacific area, and shortly after arriving at his destination, had an opportunity to get to Australia. He immediately looked up his uncle, and they had a pleasant reunion. He wrote his parents about the meeting just a few days ago.

Lieut. Bennett's father and uncle have not seen each other for 40 years, which made the reunion more enjoyable.

In one company seventeen officials whose salaries had ranged from $125 to $300 a month were all raised to $450, and in another company six hundred employees received a raise of more than thirty per cent.

"Salary grabs like these make me wonder what hidden items there may be that are charged up to the government—that is to say, the taxpayers—under the head of cost in these contracts. . . . I think that in a vast majority of cases the men have not asked for the increases of salary and would be willing to work for less," Congressman Ludlow remarked.

With more than three million citizens on the payroll of the government, working for the various Bureaus at, for the most part, salaries which few of the three million could earn outside of government employ—when this cost is added to the cost of padded payrolls of many munitions plants—the dear taxpayer may be able to see why the cost of government has become astronomical.

SHIP YARD CLAIMS NEW WORLD'S RECORD

RICHMOND, Calif., Nov. 2.—(INS)—A new world's record for ship production was claimed today by officials of the Permanente Metals Corp. whose Richmond yard launched and delivered a total of 31 Liberty vessels of 10,500 tons each during October.

"Better put a little more coal on the fire, John"

NOTHING symbolizes our way of life better than the warm, snug comfort of an American home. Nevertheless, that warmth and comfort are dependent on such things as coal—a natural product of our land, to be sure, but one which must be brought from the mines by the railroad. So, as John replenishes his fire, he's depending on his railroad to replenish his bin.

In countless ways such as this, the American way of life depends on the railroad. And today, while helping to win the war is our first big job, we of the Baltimore & Ohio are learning new things, planning new methods, studying new ideas to make B&O service in post-war years a worthy contribution to an even better way of life. Your community, we promise, can put complete faith in the men and women of the B&O.

Subsidy Demand Meets Opposition

Anti-Subsidy Congressmen To "Stand Fast" For Administration Compromise

CONGRESS FACES ANOTHER BATTLE

By WILLIAM THEIS (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—House anti-subsidy members met the ultimatum of President Roosevelt's food message today with announced determination to "stand fast" against consumer subsidies until the administration shows some willingness to compromise.

Barring such a compromise, they warned, congress faces another knock-down-drag-out fight with the White House next month over the administration's demand for authority to combat inflation with subsidy payments. The "time squeeze" now admittedly favoring the president because of the year-end deadline on continuing the Commodity Credit Corporation can "be made to work the other way," they added.

"We haven't been able to develop a compromise yet," said Rep. Wolcott (R) Mich., leader of the subsidy opposition. "The president hasn't shown any disposition to give any ground."

Wolcott charged that administration insistence upon the consumer subsidy formula represents "a deliberate attempt to socialize agriculture—a fight over authority to control production, processing and distribution of all foods."

Democratic leaders, including Majority Leader McCormack, Mass., were confident that the house would sustain a presidential veto of the pending bill banning consumer subsidies after December 31. Both sides agreed that the measure would not be brought up until mid-November.

Wolcott contended that the anti-subsidy forces in the house have gained strength since the veto test of last spring when the house upheld the president's rejection of a previous subsidy prohibition. Only 18 additional votes were needed then to override the veto, he pointed out.

Members lined up with Wolcott emphasized they opposed only consumer subsidies, not payments to producers designed to boost production.

City Buses Now Use Grant Street Bridge

Shenango Valley Transportation buses today were operating over the Grant street bridge, it having been opened to traffic. This eliminates the temporary West Washington street route. Mr. Moore asserted that according to information he has received the South Mill street bridge should be opened to traffic within the near future.

It used to be a free land. That was when you couldn't be prosecuted by unknown field agents for breaking a rule made by a bureaucrat.

Ministers Hear Speaker, Reports

Mrs. Kenneth Field Of League Of Women Voters Addresses Ministerial Association

Speaking on the subject, "You Are the Government," Mrs. Kenneth Field, state secretary of the League of Women Voters, addressed the Ministerial Association at its meeting Monday in the First Presbyterian church. In the course of her talk Mrs. Field brought out some interesting sidelights on the political situation. She was introduced by Rev. C. W. Dietrich.

Devotions were conducted by Rev. O. W. Hurst, with Rev. A. E. Simon at the piano. President Rev. Thomas J. Jones presided over business. Rev. Warren Bugbee was appointed to serve on the library committee in place of Rev. N. A. White.

Rev. Simon for the radio committee reported that beginning December 5 association members will have broadcasts as usual on Sundays from 5 to 5:30 and a part in the "Church in the Wildwood" program, daily 9:45 to 10, and a 15-minute resume of the Sunday school lesson at the same hour on Saturdays.

Rev. Hurst for the committee on evangelism reported that the committee had considered a three-phase program, and on vote of the association the first phase, which plans a religious survey of the city early in 1944, was adopted.

It was voted to follow the plan of former years for annual Thanksgiving services. Services will be held in different sections of the city with the following ministers as chairmen:

Mahoningtown section, Rev. Clyde Roland South Side, Rev. F. P. Sulmonetti; East Side, Rev. W. A. Thornton; downtown, Dr. J. J. McIlvaine.

Rev. Sulmonetti announced the schedule of ministers for services at the county home. Rev. Jones expressed appreciation of the Greek Relief committee to the ministers for their cooperation in gathering clothes.

Program next meeting, December 6, will open with devotions by Rev. W. W. Gilliland and the speakers will be Dr. Searl Bates, president of Nanking university, on China, and Clifford Jape on Stewardship, both through the courtesy of the Disciples of Christ churches.

Some Sidelights On Local Fund Drive

The First National Bank was the first local institution to report 100% success in their collection. One hour after the drive officially opened every employee of the bank had made their contribution and the quota set for the group as a whole was exceeded.

On Thursday of last week a gentleman from our community stopped in at the local campaign headquarters and made a contribution of $25. He explained that he didn't work in our community and that he was rarely ever at home when a solicitor would call. Going further he stated that he had a son in the service and that in the many letters received, his boy had always praised the work of the U.S.O. As a result this workingman wanted to be sure he made his contribution to such a worthy cause.

We have a new industry in our midst. On Thursday of last week the manager of the Detroit Wool & Skin Company called and said he read the publicity about the drive in the New Castle News. He requested fifteen pledge cards so that each of his employees could do their bit.

On Monday, the campaign headquarters received a letter from the Future Pianists, a group of young ladies, none over 11 years of age. They explained their desire to help the drive and enclosed a contribution of $10.

These are but a few of the many cases where folks or groups that ordinarily wouldn't be reached by solicitors are going out of their way to fulfill a community obligation. The drive headquarters, located at 21½ East Washington street, off the diamond, will be open every evening for the convenience of contributors and workers. If you haven't been contacted—stop in and make your contribution.

Girl Scout Week Being Celebrated

Girl Scout Week Opened October 31 Continues Through November 6

Girls in green uniforms remind one that Girl Scout Week, which opened October 31, and continues through November 6, is being celebrated by the largest number of Girl Scouts in the organization's history. Membership has reached a record high of over 820,000, including both girls and adults. This represents an increase of 25 per cent since Pearl Harbor.

The schedule for Girl Scout Week in New Castle includes: Sunday Church Day; Monday, Homemaking Day; Tuesday, Citizenship Day; Wednesday, Health and Safety Day; Thursday, International Friendship Day; Friday, Arts and Crafts Day and Saturday, Out-of-Doors Day.

Girl Scout Week commemorates the birthday on October 31, 1860, of Juliette Gordon Low, founder of Girl Scouting in the United States and is celebrated annually by Girl Scouts all over the country.

"The program for the week follows a traditional pattern being devoted to seven service days, with demonstrations of the skills and crafts incorporated in the Girl Scout program," Mrs. C. M. England, Girl Scout commissioner, explained today. "While this program remains basically the same as always, since Pearl Harbor its application has been tremendously broadened to meet war conditions. For example, homemaking, which has always included the simple household arts, has been extended to include nutrition, food conservation (canning and dehydrating), salvage of fats and tin cans, conservation of clothing, etc. Health and safety has received far greater emphasis than formerly, not only in personal health and safety but in training and practice for the protection of others. Last year, a number of first aid badges awarded tripled in number, child care and home nursing more than doubled. International friendship is being stressed more also because we must know about and try to understand those in other parts of the world in order to work with them wisely in the days to come when peace comes again to the world."

Gideons Return From Convention

Mr. and Mrs. William Bender, Harrisburg road, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bender, Euclid avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mooney, Butler road, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chappell, of Franklin avenue, of New Castle Camp of Gideons, and Misses Elizabeth Choco, Esther Krumpel, Elma Nunley, Girls Vocal Trio, have returned from the Fall Gideon International Conference of the Eastern and Central States, held in the William Penn Hotel, Pittsburgh, October 29, 30, 31.

The Gideons held services Sunday in over 100 Pittsburgh churches, and 700 Bibles were replaced in the William Penn Hotel with dedication services in lobby.

Monday evening, 1000 New Testaments were presented to the service men attending the University of Pittsburgh, by the International officers.

Next convention in July 1944, in Denver, Colorado.

DELAY MURDER HEARING

CONNEERSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 2.—(INS)—Hearing of murder charges against Charles Finch, 46, of Circleville, O., was delayed today by efforts to obtain a jury.

The names of the regular venire and of 50 special veniremen already have been exhausted without a jury being selected. Indications were that the jury will be impeached today.

Finch was arrested in Circleville on a child desertion charge. He was returned to Indiana where he had been sought for five years in connection with the slaying of Joseph Shoeneider, 89, of near Connersville.

RECORDS BROKEN

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2.—(INS)—Numerous steel-producing records fell in Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation plants in October, the company announced today.

New marks were set at the Pittsburgh works for ingots, castings bars, strip sheets and plates.

At the Aliquippa works, No. 1 blast furnace set a new record, and the sintering plant passed its 1942 mark. At Cleveland, the Otis works, No. 2 blast furnace and the sintering plant both set new production records.

The "victory model" children's shoes will have canvas uppers with soles made from remnant and other materials. O.P.A. said they will be suitable for general wear.

In general, youths up to about eight years of age will benefit from this increased supply of non-rationed shoes.

At the same time, O.P.A. provided for the ration-free sale of the small available stocks of gym and tennis shoes with rubber soles and canvas uppers.

AROUND CITY HALL

An odd situation now exists, the city has a treasurer, likewise the school board. However, according to City Solicitor R. M. White, the election by the school board of Howard Burr instead of City Treasurer B. N. Hanlon was probably due to the bond situation and was no reflection on Mr. Hanlon. The company which bonded C. C. McKibben carried bonds on him for both city and school treasurer and it may come to pass the company may attempt to force the city to prove whether he embezzled city or school money. No doubt the new city treasurer and new school treasurer will be bonded by different companies and if such a situation ever should arise again the companies would be required to fight each other and the city would escape carrying on litigation.

Today is Election day and naturally Republican nominees for council, D. O. Davies and Albert Hoyland, were visiting the various voting places after having visited their offices and disposed of important items. The mayor, Charles B. Mayne, is not a candidate for re-election. B. N. Hanlon who was named to fill the unexpired term of C. C. McKibben as city treasurer also was looking out for his interests having been nominated by Republicans.

LITTLE FALLS, Minn., Nov. 2.—(INS)—The Morrison county draft board was on strike today in a dramatic protest against the current coal strike which resulted in the government's seizure of the mines and an order by President Roosevelt that all miners be back at their jobs by tomorrow morning.

The four members of the board wrote the following to state selective headquarters, President Roosevelt, U. S. Sen. Joseph Ball (R, Minn.) and Rep. Harold Knutson (R, Minn.):

"We wish to go on record as refusing to process any more men for induction until all strikes are settled for the duration.

"If a million men can go on strike, who is going to support the soldiers already in the armed forces? Why put more men into the service if we cannot take care of those already in?"

Stern Warning Given Germany

Warned By Allies Against Peoples In Lands Overrun In War

THREE NATIONS IN MESSAGE TO HITLER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(INS)—
The leaders of the United States,
Russia and Great Britain on Monday issued a stern warning to Germans not to commit any further war crimes against peoples in the lands they have overrun.

The warning, an outgrowth of the Moscow conference of foreign secretaries, was signed by Premier Stalin, Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt, and was issued simultaneously in Washington, London and Moscow. It declared:

"Germans who take part in wholesale shooting of Polish officers, or in the execution of French, Dutch, Belgian or Norwegian hostages or of Cretan peasants, or who have shared in slaughters inflicted upon the people of Poland or in territories of the Soviet Union which are now being swept clear of the enemy, will know they will be brought back to the scene of their crimes and judged on the spot by the peoples whom they have outraged."

Salvage Paper, Plea Of State Defense Body

HARRISBURG, Nov. 2.—(INS)—
The state defense council pointed to a serious paper shortage and called upon Pennsylvanians to salvage "every scrap of paper."

"War production is being curtailed
in Pennsylvania paperboard mills
for a lack of waste paper," declared Colley S. Baker, secretary of the state salvage committee. "Plants that have been working full time seven days a week on war orders a year ago are being compelled to lay off their men two and three days a week because they are unable to get sufficient quantities of waste paper to keep them operating."

Baker explained that paper was processed for the manufacturing of bomb tanks, airplanes wing tips, and containers for blood plasma, food and "hundreds of other things." The outlook was so serious, he stated, that every local defense council had been instructed to redouble their efforts.

"Inventories of waste paper, built up through salvage campaigns more than a year ago have been virtually consumed," Baker emphasized, "and not nearly enough paper is coming into the mills through the efforts of the salvage committees and regular channels to meet the demands of the manufacturers."

"Every scrap of paper should be saved," Baker concluded. "Newspapers, magazines, old books, cartons, corrugated paper, old files and even clean waste basket paper is urgently needed from every home and business establishments to keep Pennsylvania's mills operating on war orders."

The agreement added that "it is essential that the Italian government should be made more democratic by inclusion of representatives of those sections of the Italian
people who have always opposed Fascism."

FASCISM MUST BE ELIMINATED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(INS)—
Russia, Great Britain and the United States declared their intention today of removing "all Fascist or pro-Fascist elements" from the Italian administration.

In a joint statement announcing the three powers' views on Italy formulated at the Moscow conference of foreign secretaries, the allied governments declared also that
"all institutions and organizations created by the Fascist regime shall be suppressed," and the Italian people will have restored to them "in full measure" the four freedoms.

The agreement added that "it is
essential that the Italian government should be made more democratic by inclusion of representatives of those sections of the Italian

TO PERPETUATE OLD RELICS AT HARMONY SITE

Old Cemetery, Rapp's Seat,
And Other Historic Relics
Are Included

BUTLER, Nov. 2.—Relics of a far distant day, the old Harmony cemetery, will be perpetuated to posterity
as the result of steps taken in Harmony when a committee was selected at a meeting in the Firemen's hall to petition the court for a charter, to take over title to the property.

Sometime ago the state of Pennsylvania took over from the Pennsylvania Harmonist Historical society, title to Old Economy at Ambridge. Likewise the state of Indiana has taken title to the lands and buildings of the Harmonites at New Harmony, Ind.

In a letter from John S. Dues,
head of the society, Judge John H.
Wilson was recently advised that the society desires to be dissolved
but is unable to do so until it disposes of its title to the little Harmonite cemetery at Harmony and Rapp's seat.

It was agreed that a corporation of the first class be formed to be called the Harmonist Historical society of Harmony, Pa., in order to take title to the cemetery and to Rapp's seat north of Harmony, along Conquensing creek, and provide means of access to both for the public.

The new organization also will take over any other real or personal property evidencing the culture of the Harmonites from 1805 to 1815,
the time the society resided at Harmony.

A committee was formed, with the Rev. Loran W. Veith of the Grace Reformed church in Harmony as chairman, to proceed with the organization of the corporation by procuring signers to a petition for a charter. Henry A. Halstein, Zelenople, a former resident of Harmony, presided at the meeting.

ROTARY SEES HOW POTTERY IS MADE

Pictures Reveal Various Processes In Producing Expensive China Ware

New Castle Rotary club members were given a treat on Monday when John W. Ailes, a representative of the Shenango Pottery company, showed colored pictures illustrating the various steps in the manufacture of Shenango China, particularly the Haviland process, which the local concern possesses the right to manufacture in the United States.

Mr. Ailes gave a talk accompanying the pictures, explaining them in detail and taking them through the various steps, from the grinding of the materials and mixing it in the proper proportions, which is the brand of china ware, on down to the moulding of the cups, plates, etc., and then to the burning and decorating.

It proved a most interesting program and gave Rotarians a keener insight into the workings of one of New Castle's greatest industries.

Republicans Charge Allegheny County Confusion Scheme

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2.—(INS)—
Allegheny county Republicans accused Democrats today of plotting a last-minute cut-throat scheme to throw G. O. P. voters into confusion in the balloting for county commissioner.

Thousands of fake sample ballots received through the mail by Republican party chairmen were marked with "plumbers" votes for Sheriff Robert J. Corbett, candidate for commissioner; and others were marked with plumbers for Commissioner John S. Herron, also a Republican candidate for the office.

The sample ballots carried the Allied Printing Trades Council's union printer's label. Democratic county Commissioner John J. Kane, who is president of the Printing Trades Council, was asked by both Corbett and Herron to investigate "misuses" of the label, which was branded a "violation of the law."

Corbett and Herron immediately telegraphed all party chairmen in the county, exposing the hoax, intending to split republican strength.
It was expected that 400,000 would cast ballots throughout Allegheny county today.

Announce Change For Rent Control Offices In City

OPA Rent Control is being instituted in New York City for the first time. Registration begins November 15. This tremendous undertaking comes at a time when the general
OPB has received appropriation cuts.

In order to inaugurate Rent Control successfully in New York City
all Region II, of which the Pittsburgh Rental Area is a part, is going to be drained of a portion of its man power temporarily. This will force the Pittsburgh Office to close down its outlying branches for approximately one month. The Pittsburgh Office itself will meanwhile remain open and in full operation.

New Castle people formerly had the privilege of adjusting their rent problems in their own town every Tuesday, Friday and Saturday at the Lawrence Savings and Trust Building. This will be suspended for one month. The Examiner now will be in attendance to hear complaints only on Tuesday and Saturdays of each week at the Lawrence Savings and Trust Building. Every effort will be made to reopen in December.

Regardless of years, a man is old when he gets darned tired of seeing female legs in every publication he picks up.

When Speed Counts

Today, five times as many tickets are sold on the Southern Railway System as were sold before the war—even though fast-moving "war-freights" carrying military supplies, arms and ammunition crowd the right-of-way.

MANY expert railroad accountants and experienced ticket sellers have gone to war . . . and newcomers replacing them face milling throngs at every ticket window in terminals, city offices and stations along the line.

Yet, the busiest ticket offices on the Southern present reports of revenue and federal taxes on schedule every day . . .
because the complicated task of selling tickets and the even more complex task of accounting for them are mechanized with National Accounting Machines.

With them, reports to the general office are made in the least possible time . . . for human errors and tedious detail work are eliminated by National's mechanical accuracy and printed figures . . . providing daily cash totals for each ticket seller . . . and individual totals for card, local, inter-system and interline tickets . . . and a total of revenues received from conductors,
dining-car stewards, red-caps and baggage
men . . . and separate totals of Pullman purchases and taxes collected.

Selling, handling and accounting for railway tickets, complicated and complex as these things are, are simplified by Nationals which conserve man-hours without measure—daily. . . This is one of many mechanized National systems built to protect money and records for business, industry and Government and, through them, the public.

National Accounting-Bookkeeping Machines are available to essential industries through priorities. Many modern used National Cash Registers may also be had for business needs.

WESTERN FLANK OF GERMAN LINE BEING HAMMERED

Massico ridge. The surprise one-two punch rocked the entire Massico-Venafro line by ripping up both German flank anchors and sending the Allies through to within artillery range of Venafro and giving them a firm foothold in the Massico area.

Amid heavy fighting the British dashed four miles onto the Massico slopes and hurled the Nazis from strategic ground which dominates a long stretch of the Garigliano river. The enemy thus was given the alternative of yielding the right anchor of his line or facing disaster in that sector.

The Fifth Army's moves constituted a fanning-out procedure northeast of Teano where it occupied several heights commanding the immediate battle area. The right wing of Lieut.-Gen. Mark W. Clark's army moved ahead several miles through deepening mud to pierce the German defenses.

Fighting fiercely in close-quarter combat, the doughboys seized a key-point dominating the upper Volturno valley in the Venafro direction. These groups now are within close enough range of Venafro that they can bring their 155's to bear on that city.

Fighter and fighter-bombers blasted enemy targets throughout the battle area while light bombers ranged northwest of Venafro and near Antrdoco to smash at rail and road communications.

Both coasts of northern Italy were hammered heavily by medium and heavy bombers.

The west coast naval base of Spezia was attacked as was a bridge northeast of the harbor.

Rail Yards Bombed

Rail yards at Rimini and the harbor of Ancon on the Adriatic along Italy's northeast coast were smashed by medium bomber forces. In the Ancona assault a direct hit was scored on a merchant ship and a large explosion was observed in a shipbuilding yard.

The Via Regio marshalling yards were attacked by night bombers. A reprisal raid was made against Naples during the night by German craft but no damage was done. Two of the German planes were shot down.

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth Army and Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army were concentrating on Isernia and Venafro keys to the Nazi defense protecting Rome.

Collapse of either of these pivotal points in the center of the battle-front might turn the entire west flank and force the Germans to fall back on the Po river marshes.

The Fifth Army thrusts posed a dual threat to the Germans as a result of the capture of Teano by American forces. At Teano, southwest of Venafro, the Fifth gained control of a junction of four roadways, two of which lead to Rome.

Nine Miles From Objective

The advance on Venafro by the Fifth carried Gen. Clark's forces into Valle Agricola, nine miles from their objective on that sector.

Off to the northeast, on the left wing of the Eighth Army, Gen. Montgomery's forces drove up the Vinchiaturo-Isernia highway and captured Cantalupo.

Another spearhead of the Eighth took nearby Machingodena and still further northeast Montgomery's forces occupied Prossoline, 25 miles north of Campobasso.

Heavy rains slowed both the Fifth and Eighth armies but they pursued the foe relentlessly despite these handicaps.

Fifth Army units, after entering Teano, fanned out swiftly along the vital junction roads, overcoming strong Nazi resistance. The shock troops were forced to slog through deep mud to come to grips with the Nazi defenders and take from them one of their most important defense points. Numerous positions on high ground in the mountainous battle area were seized from the Germans. The push into Valle Agricola, at the top of a 2,000 foot height, gave the Yanks command of a vast stretch of territory along the upper Volturno.

At the westernmost end of the Fifth Army line near the Massico ridge the Germans harassed the advancing Allies with fire from numerous machine-gun nests and trench mortars. The area also was heavily mined.

(A British radio report, heard by NBC, said it was believed that the Nazis holding the Massico ridge consisted only of isolated groups.)

THOUSANDS OF NAZIS TRAPPED BY RED FORCES

and the same distance east of Kakhavka, both important crossings of the Dnieper.

These forward surges created the prospect of a rapidly-closing Soviet "pincer" snapping shut behind the large German army inside the Dnieper bend where the Soviets claimed yesterday to have driven back further furious Nazi counter-attacks at Krivoriog.

But with the bursting of the "wall" and capture of Perekop and Armyansk the Soviets severed the lone railway and lone highway that run northwest down the Perekop Isthmus to the mouth of the Dnieper at Kherson.

"Thus," the Russian communique declared, "all the roads of retreat by land for the enemy troops in the Crimea were closed and cut."

Italian King Must Abdicate

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(INS)—Informed London quarters stated today that it is obvious that King Victor Emmanuel of Italy must abdicate before various democratic elements in Italy can form a workable government or afford Premier Pietro Badoglio full assistance.

An abdication in favor of Crown Prince Umberto would not, however, conciliate liberal parties in Italy.

The position of the Allied governments, it is felt, stands as outlined in the Moscow declaration.

Loneragan Was Cut Off In Wife's Will

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(INS)—Reports that Mrs. Patricia Burton Lonergan, slain heiress to a beer fortune of seven millions, had cut off her husband and confessed slayer, R.C.A.F. Cadet Wayne Lonergan, in her will were confirmed today.

The recently changed will, just filed for probate, bequeaths her entire estate to her 18-months-old son, Wayne William Lonergan. The murdered beauty signed the document last August 19.

Attorneys for Mrs. Lonergan, whose strangled and bludgeoned nude body was found October 24 in her triplex apartment in the Beekman Hill section, declined to estimate the size of the fortune to revert to the Lonergan infant.

Missing Butler Youngster Found

BUTLER, Nov. 2.—(INS)—Wayne Shoemaker, three, was found in a scrapyard a mile from his home today after being missing for 20 hours.

Two hundred soldiers from Deshon Veterans hospital and more than 1,000 firemen, air raid wardens, boy scouts, policemen and volunteers had been searching for him.

Wayne was found on the steps of a crane by a man reporting to work at the American Rolling mill scrapyard.

The child was wet and cold, but otherwise apparently none the worse for his experience, police said. A son of C. Stewart Shoemaker, insurance broker, he disappeared yesterday from his home, carrying two small American flags.

Cubs Probably Will Stand Pat With Manager Wilson

Jimmy's Presence At Draft Meeting Kills 'Fired' Rumor

Represents Club At Chicago Session; Leads Walsh To Believe He's Rehired

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(International News Service Staff Writer)
CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—To one whose simple, child-like faith in plain, everyday, straightforward, 6-2-2-1 gumption has long been the boast of his admirers and the envy of his critics, it seemed fairly clear that—tacitly and to every practical intent—Jimmy Wilson was yesterday reappointed manager of the Chicago Cubs for the season of 1944.

In fact, his unannounced appearance at the annual draft meeting of the major leagues, where formally and officially he helped to represent the Cubs, was something that apparently lent itself to almost no other interpretation.

Represent Cubs
The meeting was held strictly for purposes of trafficking in human chattels, on which delivery was to be taken in 1944. Mr. Wilson was present on behalf of the club he has managed for three seasons. Therefore, if he isn't going to manage the 44 club, what did they mean by having him there to look over 44 prospects?

But maybe there's something we missed, some inference, some subtlety too complex for our comprehension. For said one local source this morning: "The 'fire Wilson' campaigners were slightly taken back by the fellow's appearance," but said nothing to indicate that a definite piece of some sort had thereby been indicated. The item, moreover, was buried in the body of the story.

And said another (also deep down in the paper): "Wilson's presence was considered especially significant in checking rumors of his replacement."

Move Conclusive
It wasn't merely significant. It was danged near conclusive. The Cubs, for example, didn't have to produce Wilson here for the draft meeting. They never did before. They also didn't have to arrange a reputed conference with a man who was about to become an ex-employee, unless Mr. James T. Gallagher is a more singular person than he has yet given us reason to suspect.

And if anybody feels that Gallagher is bringing a guy 800 miles just to tell him he's fired, all we can say is that we don't think he's that singular.

In fact, we're counting on it.

YALE'S OBERHELMAN STILL ON SIDELINES

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 2.—(INS)—It was still uncertain today whether Obie Oberhelman's recent knee injury would heal sufficiently to permit him to play center for Yale against Brown and Princeton. The injury was X-rayed yesterday while Yale linemen and backs drilled on passing defense.

Major Loops' Perennial Draft Meeting Snappy

No Bids From Eight Clubs; Giants Draft Schantz, Letches, Two Others

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—(INS)—Failure of eight of the 16 major league clubs to put in a bid for minor league talent at the annual draft meeting in Chicago indicated to baseball men today that the owners and managers did not have a high regard for some of the quality available.

Only 15 men were drafted, 10 of whom had seen service in the majors previously. The baseball men completed the drafting procedure in the office of Commissioner K. M. Landis within 20 minutes yesterday.

The Giants, who finished last in the National league last season, attested their anxiety for new material by having four representatives at the meeting and drafting four players, the highest number picked by any club.

The players drafted included: Pitcher Charley Schantz of San Diego and infielder Charley Letches of Toronto by the Phillies.

PHILS BOLSTER PITCHING STAFF

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—(INS)—The Phillies pitching staff was reinforced today by two additional hurlers.

One newcomer was George H. Joseph, 23-year-old right-handed ace of the Main Line baseball league last season.

The Phils announced that southpaw Bernard J. Mussill, recently discharged from the Army because of eyesight trouble, will also report to the club next spring. Prior to his induction last year, Mussill was claimed by the Phillies from Trenton under a working agreement.

Sports Ramblings

Sports mixtures:—

As the Allies continue their march to victory, more and more local athletes join the conflict. Latest checkup reveals that Izzy Solomon, the golfer, now is in the Seabees; Elkins Brothers, a reserve on last season's Ne-Ca-Hi eleven, and Harvey Burris, end on the title club leave for army service in three weeks. Jimmy Howley soon dons the blue and white of the U. S. Navy.

The Rev. Fr. Vincent O'Donnell, chaplain of New Castle hospital, the Rev. Fr. John M. Unger, of St. Joseph's church, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sadler, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Diffley, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Starke were among the 82,000 spectators who sat by stunned while Angelo Bertelli torpedoes Navy via the air. Sgt. Al Jones, 112 Milton street, was a member of the 322nd Air Base and Headquarters Squadron team which recently captured the volleyball championship of Bainbridge Army Air Field.

Mike Roussos received nationwide publicity for his recent 30-odd yard point after touchdown kick. I forwarded the yarn to friend Hugh Fullerton, Jr., of AP. He, in turn, sent it out to the hundreds of papers using his interesting daily column. Wampum and Monaca have booked a pair of cage frays for December 10, at Monaca, and December 21 at Wampum.

After watching Angie Bertelli guide Notre Dame's T to perfection or after reading all about him or listening to the air guys, anyone know that the Irish will miss their magician. The question is: how much? That's something the next few Saturday's will answer. I watched the Irish with and without No. 48 and I don't think they'll ever be as formidable (this season) as they have been thus far.

Bertelli is too important a cog; the kind of a player that comes along once in a long, long time. He passes (oh, yeah!) palms the ball deceptively, kicks, runs, converts and plays a near-perfect defensive game. On top of this, remember what he does to the spirit of the 10 other players and the 11 on the other side. Filling that order overnight, I'm afraid, is even too big for Coach Frank Leahy.

Absence of Bertelli necessarily doesn't mean that the Irish will not win the remaining games. Leahy's boys may, and again may not, but I can't see the South Benders attaining the perfection that has been stamped, appropriately enough, as the greatest ever witnessed in collegiate football. With that Angie in there, folks, they're the berries; without him a good team.

RYKOVICH, N.D. BACK, IS SICK

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 2.—(INS)—Two sophomores and a freshman were attempting today to fill the shoes of three Notre Dame stars as the Irish drilled for the Army game in New York Saturday. One sophomore, Johnny Lujack, was working out at quarterback to replace Angelo Bertelli who took up his marine corps duties at Parris Island, S. C., the other sophomores, Bob Kelly, was in the right halfback post vacated by the sudden illness of Jules Rykovich. The freshman, Bob Hanlon, was being tried out as an understudy in Creighton Miller's left halfback post.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Rain of last night and this morning extended the life of small game because many of the hunters who are not of the "first water" will not venture into the wet fields and woods. According to reports from some veteran hunters the rabbit crop is not up to average despite pre-season reports. Raguenecks are plentiful in some districts and in others none have been seen. We know of one party of five which knocked down nine ringnecks in a few hours.

Not so long ago we received an inquiry from a local sportsman inquiring if the Jimmy Dunn who is blind is our Jimmy Dunn. He is not. The unfortunate Dunn is from Philadelphia. Not more than a year or more ago he paid a visit to the Arena where fans taking note of his handicapped contributed a neat sum. The Jimmy Dunn from New Castle is in excellent condition, has a stable of fairly good boxers and is keeping busy along the Pacific coast.

Caviar, Pittsburgh-owned bird dog, won the national grouse championship at a recent meet held in the Black Forest, Jersey Shore. It was the first time a pointer outstripped the setters in winning the honor. Frank Fair of Sharon was one of the three judges who awarded the title to Caviar. The dog was bred by L. M. Applegate of Youngstown.

Skunks make fine pets. At least, this is what some of the boys report who understand that species of wild life, one of them being Wayne Sines. He said he has often robbed a Mother Skunk of some of her young when he came upon the family in the field. Whenever he figured the litter was too large he would take one or two away. He said that the Mother Skunk would bare her teeth and dart at him but never backed up to show the kind of fight for which they are particularly known. Owen Fox, also a wild life enthusiast, recalled that when he was in New York, he saw a woman leading a pet skunk which had been "de-odorized". The pedestrians on Broadway moved aside hastily as the woman and her strange pet approached. He also asserted they are splendid "watch skunks"; that is, one left in an auto will keep tamperers away. We have had the odd experience of having one follow our flashlight. However, we made a hurried get-away. Bud Fleeger had an odd experience also not so long ago. He saw a skunk in Ray street with its head caught in a jar. He hit and broke the jar with a rock. The skunk shook its head free and staggered away, reminding Bud of the story when the hunter extracted a thorn from the paw of a lion after which they became friends everlasting.

Bob Steuber of Depauw, Ind., College is the nominal leader in the nation's high-scoring football race for last week but the real honors belong to Tony Butkovich of Purdue. Butkovich, playing his last game for the unbeaten, untied Bollumakers, scored three touchdowns against Wisconsin, Saturday, to boost his season total to 96 and a new Big Ten record of 78 points. Steuber scored 23 points when Depauw routed Ohio Wesleyan and went to the head of the list with 100 points. Steuber's record heads the Midwest Independents and Butkovich the Big Ten. S. Van Buren of Louisiana State heads the Southeastern conference with 91 points; B. Brumley of Oklahoma leads the Big Six with 49 points. Joe Kane of Penn and Howie Bloose of Cornell are tied for honors in the East with 43 points. Ralph Park of Texas heads the Southwest conference with 40 points and Southern conference honors belong to F. Grant of Wake Forest with 36 points.

Ellwood, 'Cats, Bessemer To End Season This Week

Wolverines Host To Beaver Falls; Cementers-Shenango In Away Tussles

Football starts to lose its grip here after this week-end. Three of the four teams listed to gambol across the stripes will hang up the molasses when the final whistle shrieks.

With the exception of New Castle high, which faces Warren after Friday night, Bessemer, Shenango Township and Ellwood City bid farewell to the pigskin sport and commence thinking about field goals.

Ellwood At Home

Ellwood City high's Wolverines, surprised by New Brighton last Saturday, hope to bow out with a triumph over a strong Beaver Falls outfit. The valley team booted the dope bucket across the river by turning down Aliquippa, 6-0, in one of the season upsets.

The Wolverines are aiming their sights at the finale and will shoot the business in hopes of winding up with a triumph.

Bessemer high, which has played but two games at home, continues its road journey, this time stopping off for a tangle with Girard, Ohio, Friday. The Cementers suffered no serious injuries in the Class B title meeting with Shenango and will be in top condition for the Girards.

Shenango Away

Coach Eddie Nahas' Shenango club, one of the most improved clubs in the district, closes at Greenville, Saturday. Shenango reached top form last week in holding Bessemer to a 13-13 tie to gain a deadlock for the county championship.

Shenango, like the remaining local teams entertains high hopes of closing in the proverbial blaze of glory.

Pitt Coach Seeks Revenge Saturday Against Buckeyes

While At Chicago Shaughnessy Set Back 6 Times; Pitt Practices

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2.—(INS)—Clark Shaughnessy, coach of the University of Pittsburgh gridiron Panthers, was out for sweet revenge today as he primed his team for Saturday's battle with Ohio State in Pittsburgh.

In six contests with the Buckeyes while he coached Chicago, Shaughnessy lost six times. Now he feels that with his T formation and a Pitt team that has found itself, he will have a chance to beat the Ohioans.

The Panthers also have reasons to seek revenge for the Buckeyes have defeated them three years in a row under Shaughnessy's predecessor, Charley Bowser. They promise a bitter battle.

Jacobs Cancels St. Nick Opening

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(INS)—Mike Jacobs today announced a second postponement of the opening of his St. Nicholas arena boxing series due to calling off of the main bout.

Coley Welch, middleweight from Portland, Me., who was to meet Georgia Kochan of Akron, O. was forbidden to fight by Dr. William H. Walker, after examination at the state boxing commission offices revealed that Welch was suffering from a nose and eye infection.

Jacobs said Kochan would meet Vic Delleurti in the main bout next Monday night.

CRISLER OVERHAULS

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 2.—(INS)—Coach Fritz Crisler began a thorough overhauling of the Michigan Wolverines today in an effort to find adequate replacements for the men he has lost to the military forces. Michigan will need a victory over Indiana Saturday to keep pace with Purdue in the race for the conference championship.

INJURED BUCKS BACK

COLUMBUS, O.—Four injured Ohio State Buckeyes, center Gordon Appleby, fullback Paul Davis, tackle Bill Hackett and fullback Glen Oliver, were expected today to be ready for the Pittsburgh game Saturday. The Buckeyes enjoyed a rest yesterday, but a full drill was ordered for today.

PENN'S KANE OUT

PHILADELPHIA.—Undeclared Penn today resumed practice sessions for the Navy game Saturday without Frank Kane, speedy right end, who aggravated a shoulder injury in the army deadlock last week. Coach George Munger faces a problem in finding a capable substitute for Kane. There is a shortage of good wing men among the Red and Blue gridsters, since four ends were transferred last week.

OWLS FEAR CRUSADERS

PHILADELPHIA.—Temple will face a better Holy Cross team on Saturday than the one which trimmed the Owls, 13-0, last year. That was the opinion today of Temple scouts who witnessed the Crusaders' 14-7 triumph over Colgate last week-end. With a two week rest on their minds, the Templars have been drilling faithfully for the impending clash.

Applications for a place in the fire arms school still are being accepted. Those desiring to learn the fundamentals of pistol shooting have an opportunity to do so gratis.

London Pleased With Agreement

See Far Reaching Effects Of Agreement Reached In Moscow

CLOSE COOPERATION IS SEEN IN FUTURE

By LEO V. DOLAN
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Nov. 2.—London reacted with expressions of delighted surprise to far-reaching effects of the tripartite agreements reached in Moscow.
Primarily, there was unalloyed satisfaction that from now on Great Britain, the United States and Soviet Russia will be in constant deliberation in London on the best means of achieving victory.
There was equal delight over Russia's full recognition of China as the world's fourth big power.
Hitherto, the Soviets have been reluctant to identify themselves with China for fear of provoking hostility with Japan. But with the Germans losing so decisively on Russian fronts, the Soviets are in a position to ignore Japan's reaction.
Of great importance, in the British viewpoint, is recognition of Austria's future sovereignty. This recognition is bound to have favorable repercussions among the Nazi satellite nations of Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria, which are now more likely to scramble aboard the United Nations bandwagon.
Exclusion of Greece and Yugoslavia from the advisory council on matters relating to Italy was thought due to internal squabbles in these two countries. When they reconcile their internal difficulties authorities indicated, they will be added to the council.
A war correspondent shouldn't be too good as a writer. He's apt to consider effective scenes more important than facts.

Christmas Tree Is War Casualty

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 2.—Father must soon tell junior the sad news—that his Christmas tree cannot come out of the woods this year, and he must be content with something synthetic.
The traditional symbol of Yuletide too has become a war casualty, a victim of the shortage of labor and transportation facilities. The Christmas tree's doom was sealed with an announcement by the national selective service, the department of transport and the wartime prices and trade board of Canada.
In Canada, where the finest Yule trees are to be found, the government has ruled against transporting the trees in flat and open-top cars or in box cars. These cars are needed for the transportation of grain, feed, and other essential commodities. At the same time, there will be no special permits for the transport of trees by motor truck.
The government's decree wiped out an industry that cut 2,500,000 trees every year and sent them to homes in all parts of Canada and the United States as far east as New York, as far south as Florida, and overseas to the Philippines and Bermuda.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR PRAISES WOMEN WELDERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(INS)—Winnie the welder received a fine pat on her brawny back today from the Labor department.
"Women are being used as welders in all the war industries and they are making good records," the department said.
"If Winnie is being out-welded by her male co-workers, don't blame it on lack of ability or skill. 'It's the physical conditions surrounding the job,' the Labor department explained.
Roosevelt says we wouldn't like it if other nations kept airfields they built here. Still, some are stripping oil fields they developed here—and we seem to like that.

NO DISUNITY AMONG ALLIES

Hitler Sustains Greatest Diplomatic Defeat In Moscow Parley

By LEO V. DOLAN
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Nov. 2.—Full cooperation between the United States, Great Britain and Soviet Russia both during the war and after it has ended is assured in a series of momentous agreements reached at Moscow whose general outlines will be announced formally today.
An authoritative British spokesman said that this collaboration has been established on "surest foundations."
The measure of agreement reached at Moscow, this informant pointed out, dashes all hopes Germany might have had of creating disunity among the allies.
This ambition has been wholly smashed.
"It has completely and finally disappeared," the spokesman said. "Hitler has received the greatest diplomatic defeat since he came to power."

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(INS)—The German DNB agency warned that the Allies are preparing for "amphibious operations on a grand, versatile scale."

Westminster Girl Lived Fifteen Years Of Life In Korea

Familiar With Many Of Names In War News Of Far East Now

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 2.—Asiatic names like Kwantung or Yingkiow which she hears over the radio or reads in the newspaper in connection with America's war with Japan aren't just places on the map to Miss Rachel Lutz, Westminster College freshman who lived in Korea for fifteen of her eighteen years.

Once when she was one year old and again when she was ten, Rachel came to America with her family. Three years ago, because of the war, the Lutz family came to America to live.
Two of Rachel's three sisters were born in Korea, as she was. "We still call it home," said Rachel who is planning to enter nursing school after she completes her work at Westminster.

"I'd like to go back and be a nurse there," she says. Besides being familiar with the mission work done in Korea, the Westminster freshman once visited a leper colony in the northern part of the country.
Japan has controlled Korea since 1910, but recently, according to Rachel, they have been cruel in their treatment of the Koreans by taking their rice away from them, then doing out an insufficient amount for the Koreans to live on.

"When I was five," relates Rachel, "there was a Japanese massacre of all the Christians in P'yongyang." Rachel and her missionary parents lived in the second largest city in Korea, called Heijo in Japanese. "We thought it might be against all foreigners, so went to the sea shore to be safe. While all the missionaries were there, we helped some Chinese to escape from the country in boats." Rachel told how her mother and other women served tea to the Japanese who came searching for the fleeing Chinese, and explained that "in the meantime, the men were helping the Chinese to get away."

Korean climate is much the same as that of temperate America, says Rachel. "Only Korea has a rainy season for about three months out of the year."
One Christmas time Rachel and her family went to Peking, China, to spend the holidays. Rachel has also traveled to Egypt, Italy, France, England and Greece and has seen more of the world than any other freshman at Westminster college this semester.

Veterans Welcome Santa's Early Gifts

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—(INS)—An eccentric Toronto millionaire was believed today to have been the mysterious "Santa Claus" who gave some of the bed-ridden patients of Christie Street Military hospital an early Christmas by tossing crisp, new $100 bills into their laps.
The cigar-smoking philanthropist distributed almost $5,000 to the goggle-eyed war victims as he swept through two wards accompanied by a U. S. army officer and three civilian friends last Saturday afternoon. The lucky recipients in the roof ward and in ward 325 threw restrained celebrations Saturday night, and spent most of Sunday figuring out how the money could best be invested. Some said they were going to buy bonds, others thought it would come in handy for winter coal bills, and a few said they would bank theirs.

"I'm going to get the kids some new winter clothes," one convalescing soldier said. "I didn't know until Saturday just how I was going to do it."
Another young veteran said the $100 bill would pay for an early trip home, while still another declared he was going to "buy me a dog, a real live first class dog."

DEAN PARDUE ACCEPTS ELECTION AS BISHOP

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 2.—(INS)—Dean Austin Pardue, of Buffalo, N. Y., today wired acceptance of the post of Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Pittsburgh.
Dean Pardue, who has been head of St. Paul's cathedral in Buffalo for many years, succeeds Bishop Alexander Mann. In his message to Pittsburgh church authorities, he said he had decided to accept after giving his election very careful consideration.
The 44-year-old dean's election must be confirmed by all the standing committees of the Episcopal church in the United States and by the House of Bishops before becoming effective.
The new bishop will likely be consecrated in the Trinity Cathedral sometime in January.

FRENCH CHIEF ISSUES DECREE ABOUT RADIOS

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(INS)—Possibility that the Nazis plan to confiscate all receiving sets owned by the French people was seen Monday as result of a decree by Chief of Government Pierre Laval ordering installation of loud speakers in all public squares.
Details of the decree were broadcast by the Brazzaville radio and were heard by the Office of War Information. The broadcast pointed out that installation of public loud speakers preceded confiscation of radio sets in Holland and other Nazi-occupied countries.

ASSERTS NAZI ARMY MAY DESERT HITLER

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(INS)—The possibility that the German Army may, if costly reverses in Russia continue, abandon Adolf Hitler and the Nazi regime in order to save itself from total defeat was expressed today by the military correspondent of the authoritative Yorkshire post.
In an article concerning the precarious position of the Wehrmacht in the southern Ukraine this correspondent wrote:
"Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel is an advocate of clearing out of Russian territory to inner defenses in Europe. With him its fight to a draw, perhaps in the hope of a negotiated peace which might save the German Army from total defeat. In the end the Wehrmacht may decide to save itself, not Hitler . . . and the Nazi regime."
